RECEPTIONS. We are authorized to announce that the ladies of the Exceptive Mansion, Mrs. Patiers on and Mrs. Stover, will be home on Monday evenings. The evening has been fixed in lieu of the afternoon receptions, as they were last thusan.

"THE KU-KLUX-KLAN."

We have not heretofore given much credit to the existence of this clan, but have been disposed to regard it as a myth, or that if any such order was in being it was designed as a secret political organization, intended merely to exercise a peaceful influence at the ballothor; that it was recorred to as a coarenient method of carrying elections in behalf of what is known as the Democratic or Conservative party, and was not bent upon mischlerous deeds to a bloody end. From what has recently transpired we are led to the belief that this "klan" not only exists in formidable numbers, but that it means mischler and blood. It appears to develop this intent; war upon bers, but that it means mischief and blood. It appears to develop this intent: war upon the colored population of the South and their immediate friends among the whites. The Augusta (Oa), correspondent of the New York World, who, we presume, knows whereof he affirms, says: "It appears to meet with all but universal favor, and promises some developments ere long of interest." It may be fair to conclude that some of these developments spoken of are the two cold-blooded murders which have just been perpetrated; for these, with a gunpowder plot, are charged directly as the deeds of this "kian."

the deeds of this "kian."

Moreover, it will be observed that the move ments of this secret conclave is attracting the attention of the military authorities. Gen eral Meade has already felt it to be his duty t warn the papers and people of his departmen ments of this secret conclave is attracting the attention of the military authorities. General Meade has already feit it to be his duty to warn the papers and people of his department against giving any encouragement to this organization, and General Shepperd, of Alabama, has promulgated an order "directing the various officers, mayors, marshals, magistrates, constables, and police to regard them selves as held accountable by the post commanders over their respective districts for the suppression of the Ku.Kiu.-Kin, and for the speprehension of the members wherever found." This gives to the subject a serious aspect, and as public Journalists we cannot keep silent and perform our duty to the public. We have sever believed in secret political organizations, when the objects were perfectly peaceful. Political wrongs must be redressed, if redressed at all, through the constitutional and peaceful methods of the ballot-box. If minorities are robbed of their rights, by the corrupt and overbearing domination of the majority, they have a peaceful remedy. To attempt to right these wrongs, whether imagined or real, by murder and assassination, only increases the evil. It either creates despotism or faction or both, and though in the inferval revenue may be visited upon a few shooxious porsons, anarchy is sure to supervise, and in the ond a despotism more cruel and releatless than that which before bore way. This is thalesson of history. A class of people in the south, maddened and indignant at the reconstruction. We simply say if it be wrong, it cannot be set right by murder, assasination, rapine, and biod, nor by a misguided vengeance and fury recked upon a weak, long-oppressed, and generally doclierace. We are confident that the bouthern people will find anything but redrives for their real or imagined grievances through the bibody instrumentalities of this "Kw Klas-Klas-Such an institution can only add to the measure of their woes, and will do them more history. The such an institution can only add to the measure of th sarm in the North than anything that can

The Impeachment Trial.

Today the trial of the President of the United States will be received, and the defence will enter upon their line of argument against the prospection. Judge Gurtis will lead off, and it is expected his argument will be lengthy. He will speak from notes, and will cover the entire ground in his effort to rebut the arguments of the managers and the testimony submitted by them.

There will be a large amount of decumentary estimony submitted by the defence, and be estimony submitted by the defence, and be-sides, a number of witnesses will be called for that side, and among them Secretary Welles. We do not see, however, how the trial can last than two weeks.

D'Arcy McGee.

B'Arcy McGec.

The assassination of this brilliant orator and statesman will not aurorise his more immediate friends, for tacy, as well as himself, knew the bitter and malignant hatred of his enemies. It will, nevertheless, shock and astoned millions of people, who regarded him as a leader, and who believed in his principles and were charmed with his sloquence. Mr. McGec was an Irishman, and was one of that band of patriots who in 18ts struck for the freedom of Ireland. The friends of Irish liberty and nationality, pasticularly the Fenlans, regard him as a traitor to his principles and were not disposed to forgive him for the abandonment of his early avowals of attachment to their cause. For his subsequent defence of the English government, they could not and would not forgive him.

We will not accuse the Fenlans of compassing his violent death, because we could not and prove so grave a charge, though doubties the course of this distinguished man in his opposition to the Fenlan movement led to his dastant of the course of this distinguished man in his opposition to the Fenlan movement led to his dastant of the course of this distinguished man in his opposition to the Fenlan movement led to his dastant of the course of this distinguished man in his opposition to the Fenlan movement led to his dastant of the course of this distinguished man in his opposition to the Fenlan movement led to his dastant of the course of this distinguished man in his opposition to the fenlan movement led to his dastant of the course of this distinct of the course of the dastant of the course of the dastant of the course of the

We deprecate the "deep damnation of his taking off." Assassination is the blankest and most disbolical of crimes. There is no deed in the catalogue of crimes comparable to it, and no punishment too severe with which the assassin should be visited.
